J. F. Hiser was down from Iron Mountain last Saturday and while here made the News an appreciated call. He tells us they are running two pumps day and night, pumping out two of the big cuts on Iron Mountain, and expect as soon as the water is pumped out to resume mining operations.—Farmington News.

G. W. Collins left some samples of corn here last week whose equal he says can be grown by any one who will use the fertilizer for which he is agent. It is certainly fine corn. Those who are interested are requested to call at this office and see the corn.

Miss Annie Bishop went to St. Louis Tuesday morning to attend the wedding of her cousin, Miss Edna Smith and Mr. Oliver G. Ward, which occurred Tuesday night. Mr. Ward is a brother of the gentleman who was married to Miss Nannie Brown a year or more ago.

Many of the sidewalks on Main street are in a horrible condition. Whenever there is a little rain the water stands in pools on the walk and in consequence pedestrians are greatly inconvenienced and discomforted. The city authorities should attend to the matter without delay.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Mitchell, of Flat River, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Frank McCallen, of "Hickory Terrace," Arcadia. Uncle Billy says it was 45 years ago the 27th of this month that he rode in Marmaduke's command through Ironton, and he weighed 190 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. O'Neal, on their way to Iowa to visit relatives, mail the REGISTER a card from St. Louis. William wants to know if he moves his family to College Hill, Des Arc, will we let him claim Iron county as his home again? You bet we will, Bill, and give you a hearty welcome, too.

The case of State vs. Criss and Gray was called in Squire Kitchell's court at Annapolis Tuesday and the defense took a change of venue to Squire Johnson at Des Arc, where the case will be tried September 29th. The defendants are charged with shooting some hogs belonging to J. S. Bollinger of Sabula.

J. N. Bishop tells us that since he has been in Alabama he has met two former Irontonians: J. L. Brierton, who is connected with a big iron company at Holt, Alabama, and Ed. Cain, who used to have charge of the screen factory here. The latter he said is thinking of establishing a screen factory at Montgomery, Alabama.

The addition to the Ironton public school house, completed last week, makes it a building ample to the needs of the district for years to come, and architecturally, gratifying to the pride of our citizens. It is modern in detail and built with regard to the convenience, health and comfort of the rising generation. The work has been well done, and stands a credit to the builder, Mr. Chas. J. Tual.

No. 23, the local passenger train, bumped into the rear end of No. 3, the mail train, at De Soto Tuesday morning. A Pullman was badly damaged and several people more or less badly hurt. The same day a couple of cars of wheat were derailed at Hogan, causing considerable trouble, and some runaway cars at Arcadia smashed up one of the pushers pretty badly. It was a day of hard luck all around on the company.

Mrs. J. P. Gillam returned from St. Louis last Friday, after spending a week with her brother, Mr. Presley J. Paul, who recently suffered a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Paul has been a member of the St. Louis police force over thirty years and stands high in the service. His condition when Mrs. Gillam first arrived was serious, but before she came home he had greatly improved and it is hoped he will soon be restored to his usual health.

Bury the croaker out in the woods in a beautiful hole in the ground, where the wood-pecker pecks and the bumblebees hums and the straddle bug straddles around. He is no good to the city push; too unpractical stinky and dead, but he wants the whole earth and all of its crust, the stars that shine overhead. Then hustle him off to the bumble bee's roost and bury him deep in the ground; he's of no use here, get him out of the way, and make room for the man that's sound.

The cost to stop and start a passenger train has been a matter long figured on and it has caused no little work in the way of investigations. Recently Trainmaster Lawrence of the Iron Mountain ran a train from this city to Harvill and return for the purpose of getting this information. This was done at other points on the line and as a result the announcement that the cost is $1 comes. This information is used by the railroads in contending for certain rates in the courts.—Poplar Bluff Republican.

F. Rodach, of Middlebrook, visited relatives here the middle of the week and also visited his mineral lands out near Bonne Terre. He tells us that the Arcadia Valley is becoming a much greater residence place now than ever before. The various churches are buying large tracts of land for camping and assembly purposes and as a result of this many prominent church people are establishing summer homes in the valley. For beauty of natural scenery there are few places in the middle west that equal and none surpasses the Arcadia Valley.—Farmington News.

No. 25, on the Iron Mountain, and a switch train on the Frisco, tried to get on the same track under the Grand Avenue Bridge, St. Louis, last Thursday afternoon. In consequence the baggage car, smoker and chair car on the Iron Mountain were derailed and several freight cars on the Frisco were turned over. Glen Smith of Bellevue was in the smoking car and received slight injuries. Lee Barger of Ironton was in the chair car, but fortunately escaped without a scratch. Because of the collision the train was three hours late in reaching Ironton that evening.

We acknowledge a very pleasant call Monday afternoon from our friend of many years' standing, Ed. H. Amelung, of New Albany, Indiana, accompanied by his brother Herman, of Pilot Knob. Ed. and his family are visiting at Pilot Knob for a few weeks. He is one of our valley boys that has "made good." He is superintendent for the Prudential Life Insurance Company at New Albany and is held in high regard by his employers. We are always glad to see him for he's very genial and entertaining. New Albany, you know, is just across the river from Kentucky—where the best of whiskey grows—and Mr. A., thoughtfully, brought the editor a bottle of rare "Old Taylor"—smooth as oil and mellow as moonlight. Many thanks, Ed. May you live long, and continue to prosper!

William A. Crutcher, superintendent of the First Christian Church Sunday School, and Miss Mary B. Roberts, his pianiste and assistant, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Roberts of 3324 Magnolia avenue, quietly slipped away from their friends Tuesday and were married at Annapolis, Iron county, Mo., that evening by Rev. John L. Brandt of that city, brother-in-law of Mr. Crutcher. The couple are expected to return to St. Louis September 26th, in time for Mr. Crutcher to assume his duties in the Sunday school. He is statistician for the Fairbanks & Morse Scale Company of St. Louis. The wedding Tuesday evening took place in the Annapolis hotel, of which Rev. Brandt is proprietor. Only a few friends of the couple witnessed the ceremony. Miss Lillian Crowther of St. Louis was bridesmaid and Harry M. Crutcher, best man.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Mr. M. L. Townsend, the well-known grocery drummer and citizen of our town, evidently finds time to think of other things besides the ways and means of inducing his customers to buy large bills of groceries from him. On September 7th he was granted a patent on an improved railroad tie, and has pending patents on two variations of the original idea. One of these ties he has filed patent rights in several foreign countries. The tie may either be made of cast iron or concrete and it is so constructed that it has both solidity and flexibility. Spikes cannot be used, of course, in fastening the rails to these ties. For this purpose clamping lugs are provided which are easily adjustable to the required gauge. The invention seems practicable and if it stands the necessary test under traffic conditions there is big money in it. We hope that Mr. Townsend will realize his highest expectations from the invention.—Potosi Journal.

Des Arc Items.

We have had a light frost but it did no harm.

Farmers are selling off their stock—hogs and cattle.

Farmers around Gran and Dexter are buying cattle and hogs and shipping them to feed.

Marquand shipped six cars of stock south last week. Marquand is a good little business town.

They have a fine farming country around there. They also have a fine hotel kept by Uncle Isaac Rhodes. I had as soon eat a meal there as at any of the hotels in St. Louis.

The railroad company is still working a large force of men and teams between here and Vulcan. It will take until the first of November to complete it. The grade or dump they are making is 12 feet wider.

J. W. Keathly & Sons have bought the old T. B. Love grist mill and will put a handle factory in it. They have fine water power which is much cheaper than steam.

Trainmaster Nedwideck has issued orders not to allow any one to ride on the local and not to take out a car from blind sidings unless the mill man will have a man there to flag the train. Heretofore they allowed the conductor to take the bill of lading at the nearest station to the blind siding. This makes it very inconvenient to the mill men.

Bud Midkiff loaded four cars of heavy oak timber here last week for the M. K. & T. railroad.

Sorry to hear of the death of Erastus Harris at Annapolis. He stuck a rusty nail in his foot and paid no attention to it and it killed him. When any one sticks a nail in his foot he should see a doctor at once.

I had the pleasure to ride with Cole Younger from Hogan to Mill Spring. When we arrived at Gads Hill I told him this was the place where they robbed the train. He looked out and said, "I was not in it."

W. W. Strother and the Stevenson Bros. have bought the strip of land lying between the Holiness College and Des Arc—about six or seven acres. Consideration, $750. They will erect a roller flour mill on it near the picnic ground and a general store. The Stevenson boys are enterprising young men but I am afraid they will make a mistake when they put in a flour mill, for there are flour mills at Irondale, Bismarck, Ironton, Piedmont, Coldwater, Greenville and Gravelton, and none of them are paying expenses. However I hope the boys will come out on top, as they don't know what a failure is; they have always succeeded in everything they have undertaken.

Annapolis News.

Looks like we might have rain.

Erastus Harris, of Annapolis, well known to many people in this vicinity, run a nail in the bottom of his right foot on September 9th. It did not bother him much until the 14th when lockjaw set in and death resulted in a few days. Mr. Harris was 29 years, six months and nineteen days old. He leaves a wife and child, father, mother, brother and sister, and a host of friends to mourn his demise. May he rest in peace!

While loading ties for Gus Funk at Benson's switch last Saturday Wm. Kitchell came very near having his neck broken by a trap door. They were putting in a tie when the door fell, hitting him on the face and neck.

The London Realty Company is building an addition to the barber shop, which will be rented to some family.

James Harris, the section foreman at Ironton, was on train 33 to-day en route for Plateau to relieve the boss on the extra gang at work there. Jim is a good man and will be liked by the men under him.

A number of gentlemen and ladies got off No. 23 to-day. Mr. Brandt met them at the depot and escorted them to the hotel.

The diamond drill is still boring away, but no report as to what has been discovered.

It is said there will be a wedding in the near future. The candidates are: Jacob Brewer of Iron county and Sarah E. Inman of Reynolds county.

Gus Funk and Ed Summers loaded out all of their ties here last week, except a few culls. Gus is now loading ties at Benson's switch.

Sutton Bros. loaded out a car of oak timber last Saturday. This is the third car they have shipped in two weeks from a mill that it was said they could not run. How some people can be fooled!

John L. Marshall came down to Annapolis Tuesday and arrested on a murder charge a negro from Newport, Arkansas, but we understand he was not the man wanted. The people of Annapolis believe it was one of the fair sex John was looking for, and when she was out to dinner John fell on the negro for spite.

Parson William Huff is in town on business.

It is said there was a wedding in town the night of the 14th. Did not learn the parties' names, but they were from St. Louis and the bride is a sister of Mrs. John L. Brandt.

The day agent for the Iron Mt. railroad at this place ought to be promoted and sent to Pilot Knob, as he does not like much work.
